
AK Serov has received certification

Saturday, 29 Aug, 2009

Metallurgic plant named after AK Serov has received a certification according to the standard ISO/TS 16949:2002.

Following the results of re certification audit JSC Metallurgic plant named after A.K Serov has received an international certification according to the Standard ISO-TS 16949:2002 with the period of validity till 2012.

Positive auditors' estimate of the plant was given by experts of the firm "TUV Rheinland". This spring for 3 days independent experts had audited conformity of all processes of the plant with the international quality guides.

Mr Yevgeny Prein Chief Engineer of the Metallurgic plant named after A.K Serov said "Availability of the certification according to the standard ISO/TS 16949:2002 is a mandatory requirement of practically all contracts for delivery of automobile components to Russian and international customers. This document is a seller's considerable competitive advantage which guarantees to the customer the quality product within the stipulated period."

This certification covers semi fabricated products, hot rolled bars, cold drawn gage rods, grinded and polished, made of carbon and alloyed steel for automotive industry.

(Source from Metal Supply and Sales)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com