
Japanese H2 scrap average price increases last week

Sunday, 05 Jul, 2009

It is reported that Japanese H2 scrap average price in the Kanto region, Central Japan and Kansai region was at JPY 23654 per tonne, increasing by JPY 450 per tonne compared with the previous week. The average price has risen for successive three weeks.

Specifically, H2 scrap price in the Kanto region was JPY 24,750 per tonne, up by JPY 417 per tonne; that in central Japan was JPY 22480 per tonne, up by JPY 600 per tonne and the price in Kansai region was JPY 23733 per tonne, up by JPY 333 per tonne.

(Sourced from YIEH.corp)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com