ASSDA releases details on Stainless Fabrication Forum

Wednesday, 15 Jul, 2009

The Australian Stainless Steel Development Association has released the registration form and more details on its Stainless Fabrication Forum. The Stainless Fabrication Forum will take place in Brisbane on October 23rd 2009.

According to the ASSDA, the forum is a low cost way of keeping informed of current issues affecting the stainless steel industry, and networking with colleagues and competitors. The Stainless Fabrication Forum is targeted specifically at fabricators, but distributors and other industry participants can also attend.

Attendees will be able to tour one of the most advanced foodservice equipment manufacturing workshops in the country, and hear from 5 speakers on emissions trading, sustainable manufacturing, the ASSDA Fabricator Accreditation program, e learning for apprentices and distributor accreditation.

Speakers include CTC Consulting's Mr Paul Gallimore, Atlas Specialty Metals' Mr Peter Moore and QMI Solutions' Mr Mark McKenzie.
