

---

Brazilian primary aluminum output slips by 9pct in September

Monday, 19 Oct, 2009

It is reported that Brazil's primary aluminum output dropped by 9% to 125,400 tonnes in September from 137,800 tonnes during the same time if 2008.

According to the country's aluminum association Abal, Brazil's primary aluminum output amounted to 1.16 million tonnes in the first 9 months dropped by 7.2% compared with the same time in 2008.

(Sourced from YIEH.com)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com