
Full zinc output to resume this week after accident - Exxaro

Thursday, 17 Sep, 2009

Bloomberg reported that Exxaro Resources Limited will resume full production at its Zincor unit this week.

Exxaro said that the results of an investigation by the company and the South African government into an accident last week which killed 3 contractors and injured 12 others at the unit will be completed within four weeks.

(Sourced from Bloomberg)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com