
Qatar and Turkey to set up LNG pipeline across Saudi Arabia

Tuesday, 22 Sep, 2009

Mr Taner Yildiz energy minister of Turkey announced teaming up with Qatar to form committees to start work on a possible LNG pipeline throughout Saudi Arabia.

Mr Yildiz said that this project aims to transfer Qatari gas to Turkey across Saudi Arabia.

He said that Turkey would put off a decision on whether to approve or cancel a tender to build Turkey's first nuclear power plant.

It is worth noting that a Russian led consortium of Inter RAO, Atomstroiexport and Turkey's Park Teknik submitted the sole bid in a tender 2008 for Turkey's project in building the nuclear plant.

(Sourced from Reuters)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com