
Death toll rises in Polish coal mine explosion

Tuesday, 22 Sep, 2009

The death toll in a methane gas explosion at a Polish coal mine last week has risen to 14 after another miner died of burns.

A doctor at a burn hospital in the eastern town of Leczna says the 44 year old miner died Monday.

The accident occurred at the Wujek-Slask mine in Ruda Slaska.

(Sourced from Associate Press)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com