TATA Motors to expand Pantnagar plant

Wednesday, 18 Nov, 2009

TATA Motors which is producing the Nano car apart from other commercial vehicles, at its Pantnagar plant in Uttarakhand said that it was planning to expand the manufacturing facility and called for strengthening rail, road and air connectivity in the region to boost production.

Company officials called on Mr Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank chief minister of Uttarakhand and held talks on the company's expansion plans at the plant.

The statement said that the plant produces nearly 950 vehicles daily, including 150 Nano cars. The company is planning to raise the production to 500,000 vehicles a year from the Pantnagar plant.
