
Global daily average aluminium output up in June- IAI

Tuesday, 27 Jul, 2010

According to provisional figures from the International Aluminium Institute, global daily average primary aluminum output rose to 66,600 tonnes in June from a revised 66,400 tonnes in May.

Total production in June was 1.999 million tonnes compared with a revised 2.058 million tonnes in May. Total production in June 2009 was 1.893 million tonnes. Daily average primary aluminium production in China rose to 47,500 tonnes in June from 45,700 tonnes in May. Total primary aluminium production in China rose to 1.424 million tonnes in June from 1.418 million tonne in May and 1.029 million tonne in June last year.

(Sourced from Reuters)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com