Intex Mandore nickel project to start production in 2012

Wednesday, 07 May, 2008

According to an official of Intex Resources, its Mindoro Nickel project located in Philippines will start to produce in 2012.

Intex said that they will finish the bankable feasibility study in the first quarter of 2009 and the annual production capacity is designed to have 40,000 tonnes per year. They also plan to construct a HPAL plant to produce 55% nickel of nickel concentrate. And then, the products including iron ore and cobalt may export to Japan.
