
Taishan Steel develops 420 Stainless Steel

Wednesday, 12 Nov, 2008

To further expand market share and strengthen presences, Taishan Steel Group has stepped up efforts in new products development and its stainless steel plant has successfully developed 420 stainless steel on October 31st 2008, becoming one of the few domestic steel mills mastering the technology.

Taishan Steel has developed 430 stainless steel in earlier days.

(Sourced from MySteel.net)

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com