
ATI Allegheny increases prices on stainless plate mill products

Monday, 11 May, 2009

Effective with plate shipments on May 18th 2009, ATI Allegheny Ludlum Specialty Plate is increasing prices on stainless plate mill plate products.

This increase is achieved by reducing the functional discount by two percentage points.

ATI Allegheny in a letter to its clients said that "We appreciate your continued support as we implement this price increase. Please contact your ATI Allegheny Ludlum sales representative for further details."

For more news visit at www.steelguru.com